

SHARE INSTRUCTION FORM

The Legacy of your land ownership

When you chose to buy a community share in Fordhall Organic Farm you supported our vision to create a vibrant organic farm that is also a thriving, welcoming place for the whole community.

It is important to us that this remains the case for many generations to come. As you will know, your shares are life-long meaning you will part-own Fordhall for as long as you are with us. Your involvement and support, however, does not stop there. It is just as important to decide what happens to your share(s) when your body returns to the land. What would you like your legacy as a landowner and steward to be?

There are a number of options, and what is most important to us is that the decision on the future of your shares is made by you. By completing this form ahead of time, you will ensure that your wishes are followed through by our team.

This also helps simplify your financial affairs as there is no need to include your shares within your legal Will if you have completed this form, although gifts in Wills are still gratefully received.

If you do choose to donate your share(s) back to the Society, you will be helping to ensure Fordhall remains an inspiring place where farming works in harmony with nature for the benefit of farmers and community; forever restoring connections between the land, the soil and our health.
